

CERAMIC STUDY GROUP Inc.

Susie McMeekin

Susie McMeekin was born in 1954 while the family was living in Mittagong and her father Ivan McMeekin was establishing the Sturt Pottery. Ivan was one of the founding members of Potters Society of Australia now known as The Australian Ceramics Association. She began potting in 1978. Susie is one of a few second generation potters working in Australia. In 1989 she established her own workshop in Katoomba in the Blue Mountains west of Sydney. She is slowly evolving her own style although still adhering to the concept of using as many local materials as possible. A great love of simplicity is the underpinning feature of her work. Good shapes and good glazes.
